

TENNIS NOTES

The Carbon Lawn Tennis Juniors brought their match season to a close on September 27th in a match against Drumheller. The Drumheller Juniors are probably the best in Alberta, as in 1928 they went into Calgary and defeated the best junior team in that city, and they won in a two days tournament against Calgary without losing a set. Carbon therefore did exceptionally well, and only lost by five events to three against this strong team. The following are the results and scores:

Boy's Singles

W. Stark of Drumheller defeated W. Edwards of Carbon 6-1, 6-3. E. Code of Drumheller defeated W. Poxon of Carbon 6-5, 6-5. B. Ramsay of Carbon defeated G. Mason of Drumheller 6-5, 6-1. N. Nash of Carbon defeated D. Anderson of Drumheller 3-6, 6-0, 7-5. D. Mackay of Drumheller defeated R. Wise of Carbon 6-2, 6-0.

Boy's Doubles

D. Mackay and W. Stark of Drumheller defeated W. Poxon and W. Edwards of Carbon 6-3, 6-1.

B. Ramsay and R. Wise of Carbon defeated D. Anderson and G. Mason of Drumheller 6-4, 6-2.

W. Stark and E. Code of Drumheller defeated W. Edwards and N. Nash of Carbon 6-5, 6-1.

SCIENTISTS TO FILM AURORA BOREALIS

Equipped with motion picture cameras possessing an exceptionally high rate of speed, and with films sensitive to all the colors of the spectrum, three explorers and scientists, representing the United States Government, have arrived at Churchill, where they propose to film the Aurora Borealis, as a preliminary to the scientific investigations of Arctic atmosphere phenomena which will be conducted next year by parties sent by all nations interested

GUILTY OF THEFT

J. H. Coates, of the Carbon district, appeared before Magistrate O'Connor Friday last, charged with stealing binder twine from William White of the same district. He was found guilty, and fined $20.00 and costs, or, in default, one month's imprisonment. Constable Moriarty of the Carbon detachment of the Alberta Provincial Police prosecuted.—Drumheller Review

300 Carloads of Settlers Effects Moved

Three hundred carloads of settlers' effects had been moved by the railway companies under the three-way agreement existing between the Federal and Provincial government and the companies by which farmers might move from the dried-out sections to new land in the Province, it was learned this week. The migration, which started early in the summer, had taken place chiefly from the district between Hanna, Alsask and the Red Deer river, so that of the total, 170 had been moved by the Canadian National Railways.

The total of 299, however, was based upon C.N.R. figures which were only up to the end of August, while the Canadian Pacific reported that it had moved 17 cars so far in September. Consequently, the number up to the present date would probably be somewhat in excess of 299.

Impliments, supplies and household effects constitute most of the loads of the cars.

In Arctic exploration.

These combined investigations are to be made next year because that is the fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of the first meteorological station in the Arctic regions.

ALBERTA NEWS

Hunters in the Namaka district are securing geese, according to news reports from that district.

Last Sunday night thieves entered Harrison Department Store and got away with $45.00. From there they went on to McKay's Hardware, but the door refused to open.—Gleichen Call.

Thomas Baines, keeper of the Calgary Zoo on St. George's Island, lies in the hospital in a critical condition, victim of an attack by the long-horned buck deer at the park last Friday.

The Alberta Gazette of September 15th gives the names and addresses of those who have applied for and have been granted certificates under the Debt Adjustment Act.

By a majority of 1047 the Alberta Wheat Pool has defeated the proposal of a compulsory 100 per cent pool, following a resolution passed at the last annual convention.

Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Ontario minister of agriculture, is on a ten day tour of the western provinces. The primary object of the trip is to interest Western farmers in the idea of sending their cattle to Ontario for fattening before despatching them overseas.

Demanding an increase in wages from 30 cents an hour to 50 cents, a group of unemployed miners, engaged in relief road work at Passburg, two miles from Blairmore, went on strike on Thursday afternoon last.

After spending 30 days in Lethbridge Jail, and paying the fine of $25 and costs imposed him on July 2, Mike Loy, who was charged with being an alien and having firearms in his possession, appeared before His Honor Judge A.M. Macdonald in district court at Calgary Friday and heard his conviction quashed due to insufficient evidence.

Positively no more Hutterite immigration into Alberta is to be permitted according to definite assertion of Hon. George Hoadley in reply to renewed request from representatives of a colony in Dakota that wants to move over the line.

A. Wilson McLean, a Great War veteran of Carmanagay, and agent of the U.G.G. elevator, accidentally killed himself with a .22 rifle in his home on September 13th.

Alberta domestic coal operators will receive a proportionate share of relief coal orders from Saskatchewan, according to C.G. Burham, secretary of the Alberta Domestic Coal Operator's association. Alberta mines will supply one ton in four for eastern Saskatchewan, and receiving practically all the orders for the western part of the province. Orders, it is believed, will reach 250,000 tons.

A fatal accident occurred at the Three Hills Coal Mine on Monday of last week when Martin Papas was instantly killed by a fall of rock. He had just been into the next room to fix his lamp and when a miner came in later and noticed no light, he went to investigate and found the deceased lying under a fall of rock, quite dead. A huge rock had just missed him, but another had caught him at the back of the head and driven his jaw into the skull. A bar he had been working with was also driven into his head.

Chris. Benetos, proprietor of one of the local cafes, and Helen Doshivnyk, one of his employees, was injured in an automobile accident, which occurred last Thursday morning on the Drumheller-Calgary highway two miles out of Beiseker. A few minutes after the accident Lawrence Poxon, driver of the Calgary-Drumheller Red Line Bus came along and with the help of passengers rendered first aid to the injured parties, and then rushed them to Drumheller, where they were attended by Dr. Dawson Graham.

NEW GRAIN BEING HAULED TO LOCAL ELEVATORS

Threshing is under way now in the Carbon district and the first new grain was hauled to the local elevators last Saturday. The grain is grading all the way from No. 1 to No. 4, according to information received from elevator agents. The best report on Monday was from Emil J. Ohlhauser, who received No. 1 for his wheat. Other reports are No. 2 and 3, the reason for the lower grade being on account of green kernels in the wheat.

Bank of Montreal General Crop Report

Outside the Prairie Provinces the harvesting of satisfactory cereal crops is approaching completion and heavy crops of later staples are expected. In the Prairie Provinces grain cutting has been completed with the exception of 10 per cent of the wheat and 25 per cent of the coarse grains in northern Alberta, where frost has caused slight damage to standing crops. Threshing has been completed in the southern areas of the three provinces, with the exception of Southern Alberta, where 25 per cent of the grain remains to be threshed. A large per centage of the crop in the northern areas of Alberta and Saskatchewan is unthreshed. Heavy rains have delayed operations and will cause damage to the unthreshed crops. Details follow:

Throughout the Province of Alberta wheat will average about 16 bushels No. 1 to 3 Northern and oats 25 bushels. Feed is plentiful, pastures having benefited by recent rains.

Northern Alberta—Threshing has commenced and wheat is yielding 20 to 25 bushels.

Southwestern Area—Wheat is averaging 7 bushels and grading largely No. 1.

Western Alberta—Threshing is 75 per cent completed in the southern section but elsewhere has only just commenced. Wheat is yielding around 10 bushels in the southern section and 20 to 25 in the northern section. An average crop of good quality sugar beets is being harvested.

FIRST GRAIN BOAT LOADED AT CHURCHILL

Prairie grain, destined for the inaugural shipment overseas by the Hudson Bay route, was hurried from the 2,500,000-bushel elevator at Churchill, September 15th, into the hold of the Steamer Farnworth.

The Hon. R. J. Manion, minister of railways and Canals, watched the grain cars being emptied of their contents in less than eight minutes each, and wheat cascaded at the rate of 250 bushels a minute into the ship's hold from each of the three loading spouts. The Farnworth sailed two days later carrying a full cargo of some 270,000 bushels of No. 2 Northern, while the Warkworth, the second of the two test boats, loaded later in the week, sailed with 237,000 bushels of No. 1 Northern, 22,000 bushels of No. 1 Hard, and the remainder of No. 2 Northern.

Out of town transit companies are now paying license fees to the City of Drumheller. The fee is $40.00.

POLICE COURT

I. U. MacLennan, of Swalwell, after pleading guilty in Calgary police court on Monday morning, and was given a suspended sentence after character evidence had been given. MacLennan pleaded guilty to the following charges: Between January 1 and May 1, 1931, having received a number of automobile license plates from the deputy provincial treasurer did fraudulently convert the proceeds of the sale of the plates, $650, to his own use; between April 20 and May 5, 1931, having received $119.45 which he had to account for to the Alberta Pacific Grain Company, did convert this amount to his own use.

A. H. Wills, of Swalwell, said he had known the accused for 15 years. Harry R. Longstaff, Swalwell postmaster, said he had known him for 25 years and that he had a spotless character in regard to business.

MacLennan took the stand in his own behalf saying he came to Canada in 1908, moving to Swalwell in 1911. He began farming and in 1926 was appointed notary public. He had been a justice of the peace since 1923, and a magistrate since 1927, and had only one case appealed against him.

Handled Large Sums

He was appointed agent for the Alberta Pacific Grain Company in 1925 and since that time has handled about $250,000 in cash for that company. He was appointed to a similar position with the Alberta Wheat Pool three years ago and had handled about $200,000.

For the past three years he had issued license plates and had made full returns during the first two years.

Since the shortage, he said, he had deposited $300 with a Calgary bank to the department's credit, by way of a restitution, and persons owed him $400.

His Lordship, in imposing a six-month's suspended sentence, said that the accused had not had active criminal intent, but that it was a case of negligence, and that the disgrace was probably a greater punishment than the one he was imposing.

TAX SALE POSTPONED

The date of the tax sale of the Village of Carbon has been postponed to Monday, November 5th, at 2 p.m. This change is made at the request of the property owners who have property up for sale, but who will not be able to pay their taxes till after the harvest. In view of this fact the Village Council has ordered the tax sale postponed for thirty days. A public notice to this effect appears in this issue of The Chronicle.

From October 1 until the end of the open season for duck shooting, hunters in Alberta will be allowed a bag limit of 25 ducks a day, according to announcement by J.B. Harkin, Dominion government commissioner of parks and game.

It has generally been assumed by hunters that the 15-a-day limit in force during September extended over the entire season. This announcement from Ottawa will be welcome news, as the big ducks will soon be starting south from north of Edmonton, where mallards are reported in great numbers.

Hunters can shoot ten geese each day, with 25 the limit for the season.

Who Does Your Printing?

All business houses need more or less printed matter, all of which is within the possibilities of the local printer. Yet how prone many are to pass up the home printer and let the orders go to city offices which have no interest whatever in rural communities except to get printing orders and the cash to pay for them. Business men, remember that the home paper is constantly promoting the interests of the home community and you owe it to yourself and your local paper to back up these efforts by at least having your printed matter done locally.

Meeting The Challenge

In these troublesome times, when economic conditions the world over are causing acute suffering, any line of reasoning that will tend to stiffen the morale, is surely welcome. Some comfort, perhaps, may be drawn from the fact that we in Canada are doubtless less affected than other countries, and if we can credit the utterances of many well-informed writers and public speakers, we shall be among the first of the nations to emerge from this depression. We are no doubt now paying the price of rather extravagant living, and the present is a very good time to take stock and to reconstruct our ideas in conformity with the fixed laws of economics. And we must consider not only material things, but also the matter of character and the true worth of the individual. The present is surely a testing time. Roy L. Smith, contributing a most helpful article in a recent issue of The Rotarian, says that while the financial conditions have upset our economic structure, the real values of life are unshaken and solid. We cannot do better than to quote his article in full, which is as follows:

"We have passed through a panic suffered from a crash on the stock market and are now more than half way through the depression, and I am still rich.

"It may be true that I have much less to live on than I had a year ago, but it is certainly true that I have just as much as ever to live for. The real values of life are unshaken and solid.

"The stock crash cost us much that we never had—paper profits which never got nearer our pockets than the financial pages of the daily papers. The market failed but nothing else did. Prices went down, but not one acre lost its fertility and all the electrons, protons and ether waves went on working in their accustomed ways.

"When the depression came I was compelled to take an invoice and soon discovered that I was still rich. All my capacity for the enjoyment of life was intact.

"The depression has not lowered the value of a single friendship. Neighbors still greet us in the same old, cordial way, business associates believe us and our sons hold us in high respect. The wife's welcome at the close of the day has not depreciated in the least and our daughters continue to lavish their affection upon us with the same old extravagance.

"My faith in the goodness of the universe is unimpaired. By that faith I am emboldened as I face defeat and despair. The prayers my mother taught me and the faith in God instilled in me by a devout father remain as priceless treasures no depression can touch.

"No nation becomes great by becoming rich. Neither does a man find enduring satisfaction in life by owning something—only by becoming something. The most degrading poverty is that which results from killing the spirit that the body may be served.

"This depression has cost us some of the things we created but it has robbed us of none of our power to create. We may lose some beautiful things, but we have lost no love of the beautiful.

"It is a challenge, not a catastrophe. A generation that has conquered the air and sent giant planes circling the globe, which has plunged into the depths and disported on the ocean's floor, which has climbed above the clouds and lived in the stratosphere, is now faced with the challenge to rise above its dependence on mere things and seek an emancipation of the spirit of man.

"The last six months have been for many men a thrilling spiritual adventure through which they have discovered their real wealth. Bereft of dividends and profits they are discovering the sustaining powers of strong religious faith: the abiding value of courage, heroism, honor, clarity and trustworthiness.

"A financial crisis can wipe out profits and bring business to a standstill, but character is beyond its reach. It can rob us of all we have, but it cannot affect what we are.

"The investments we made in ambitious youth, hospitals, crippled children's camps, colleges and service institutions go on paying dividends. The deepest satisfactions of life—those which come from sharing and serving—remain secure.

"I am still rich because I am independently rich—none of my wealth depends upon business conditions or market reports."

Tar Sand Development

The tar sand development at Fort McMurray is proceeding satisfactorily, according to Dr. S. C. Ellis, mining engineer of the Dominion Department of Mines, who passed through Edmonton, the other day, from Waterways, on a routine business trip to Ottawa. Dr. Ellis, who has been conducting the tar sand development at McMurray for the past year, will shortly return to Edmonton and Fort McMurray.

In the matter of flags the Manitoba Free Press of Winnipeg is prepared for all emergencies. When the King and Queen of Siam recently visited the city the Siamese flag was flown in their honour, and there was no trouble in obtaining it since it was on their own flag stock. "Our flag lockers," E. H. Macklin, president and general manager, says "contains full-sized flags of all the different nations of the world, and these we fly from our courtesy flag staff on the occasion of national holidays of the different nations."

Dysentery Is a Very Dangerous Bowel Complaint

Mrs. E. M. Ward, 627 Ave. H. South, Saskatoon, Sask., writes:—"When my husband was in France he took dysentery, and was in hospital over a year. Ever since he came back he has had the attacks three or four times a year. I cannot emphasize the good Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has done for him. He generally takes a few doses and gets relief in a few hours."

"I cannot speak too highly of your excellent remedy, and you may be sure we are never without a bottle of it in the house."

Roads For Airplanes

Beam Like Searchlight Enables Pilots To Keep Their Bearings

In the near future aeroplanes may use roads or tracks just as motor-cars and railway trains do today. The aeroplane roads will not be visible, but they will be there. They will consist of beams of unseen rays focused from one point to another just like the beam of a gigantic searchlight. An experiment with this new method of flying was made recently. At Manchester and Bristol transmitting stations are erected which send out wireless waves focused into a beam some four miles in width. The aeroplane contains receiving apparatus which indicates to the pilot any straying from his proper course. Starting from Bristol, an aeroplane can be certain of making its way direct to Manchester in the blackest darkness or the thickest fog. All that the pilot has to do is keep in the beam and to fly straight on. It will no longer be possible for pilots to lose their bearings.

NEIGHBORS TALK

"I am employed in a theatre and it is a problem to make ends meet, as I help support my mother and sisters. I like to dress well but haven't very much to spend on clothes. To give the appearance of variety to my slender wardrobe I change the colour of a dress or stockings as soon as the things become faded. I always use Diamond Dyes for the work—using them as dyes for dresses and as tints for stockings. I have always gotten such perfect results that our neighbors talk about the great number of new things I have."

"I learned about Diamond Dyes from our wardrobe mistress. She says she has tried all the dyes on the market but none do such splendid work and are so easy to use as Diamond Dyes. I understand they are the world's most popular dyes—and they deserve to be."

Telephone Line Completed

Flin Flon Now Has Regular Long Distance Service

The telephone line to Flin Flon, which will link the northern mining town with the outside world by regular long distance telephone circuit, has been joined by the "copper link."

For two months workmen have been engaged in erection of a pole line to the north, and final details of the project have been completed. Local people who spoke to Flin Flon citizens talked over the standard No. 10 copper wire. The cut-in was made without a hitch and connections were perfect.

New Canadian Stamps

Colour Had To Be Changed When Postage Was Increased

The increase in Canadian postage rates necessitated the changing in colour of the Canadian stamps. According to the regulations of the International Postal Union, of which the Dominion is a member, the stamp which will prepay an ordinary letter in each country must be red in colour. For that reason the two-cent Canadian stamp was red. When the rate was advanced to three cents, the three-cent stamp did the work formerly done by the two-cent, and therefore the new three-cent stamp was coloured red, the Canadian three-cent stamp corresponding to the United States two-cent and the British penny stamp. This facilitates the work of postal clerks, as they need only to look at the colour of the stamp to ascertain if the letter is sufficiently prepaid. Of course, during the present transition period, when there are some red two-cent and red three-cent stamps being used, the clerks are obliged to examine the letters to make sure that the three and not the two-cent stamp has been used. This change in colours necessitated a new colour for the two-cent stamp and that stamp has been issued as a brown stamp. It will be recalled that during the war, when postage rates were increased, there was a brown two-cent stamp with the "I.T.C." surcharge, and later a three-cent brown stamp was issued.

John Bull Keeps Cool

Does Not See Way Out But Knows One Will Be Found

Despite all appeals and warnings Britons seem to retain their customary confidence that everything will turn out right in the end. This is the attitude which returning travellers report that they have encountered in all parts of England. The people do not know exactly how they are to be pulled out of their trouble, but are positive that the thing will somehow be done. Dr. Johnson's saying of a certain writer that "he flounders well" might be applied to John Bull. He has, and he knows it, a way of floundering through. This is what keeps him calm when the visible facts might make others think that he ought to be frightfully agitated.—New York Times.

Board Of Railway Commissioners Hand Down Judgment In Coast Case

The Board of Railway Commissioners in a judgment handed down dismissed the application of the corporation of the City of Victoria together with the Panama Pacific Grain Terminals, Limited, for an export rate on grain by the Canadian Pacific Railways equal to that of the City of Vancouver.

The charge that the existing rates were discriminatory, upon which the applicant based its case, was unfounded, C. O. Fullerton, chief commissioner, stated in handing down his decision which was unanimously concurred with by the other two members of the board.

ASK GOVERNMENT TO SET LIMIT FOR THE RELIEF FUND

Ottawa, Ont.—With prorogation looming up in the near future, government and opposition came to grips in the House of Commons on the proposals for unemployment and farm relief. The resolution to confer upon the government powers to deal with these problems, to maintain "peace, order, and good government in all parts of Canada," and to pay from the revenues of Canada such sums as may be necessary for unemployment and farm relief, commanded the attention of the House.

It is one of the two big items remaining on the sessional program. The other is the report of the Beauharnois committee.

As expected, the claim that the government was asking for a "blank cheque" formed the storm-centre of opposition. Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister, who moved the resolution, dealt with this charge before it was made.

"We believe that it is in the interest of Canada, of the Canadian taxpayer, of the provinces, and of the people concerned, that we should not endeavour to place a limitation upon the amount that may be expended, either with respect to direct relief or otherwise," Mr. Bennett declared. Once a specific amount was stated, a contest would arise between the provinces to obtain all that they believed to be their share.

The claim would be advanced that the total amount should be apportioned on a basis of population, whereas the government wished of necessity to dictate where the money would go. Also the provision of a stipulated amount would develop the idea in the minds of the shiftless that a fund had been established upon which they might draw without work.

The other side of the argument was presented by Rt. Hon. Marckenzie King, opposition leader. Parliament was the board of directors sent by the people to administer their business. It was the duty of the government to determine what sums it required for unemployment relief, in the first instance, and for farm relief in the second, and submit them to parliament, said Mr. King.

What the government said was necessary it would get. But, declared Mr. King, a limit should be set. And, he reminded Mr. Bennett, the government could always summon parliament if it found that more money was required.

The situation was abnormal and serious Premier Bennett informed the House gravely. Many Canadians were now in want and, unless extraordinary measures were taken, would suffer hardship and privation during the coming winter. No need existed for apprehension as to Canada's ability to meet the situation. Canada was solvent. The government proposed to proceed with a program of public undertakings designed to furnish employment. But, leaving these aside, there still remained the problem of assisting the provinces, and through them the municipalities, in their problem.

Mr. Bennett issued a warning to persons capable of work who refused it. For such there would be no benefits, he said. "The people's money is not for those who are able but unwilling to care for themselves," he asserted. "I warn them of that now. The measures which we shall take will be denied their fullest benefit without the generous co-operation of all classes in the land."

There existed in Canada, Premier Bennett continued, a class of persons, "happily few in number," who saw in the present situation an opportunity to spread pernicious political doctrine. So long as they did not attack the foundations upon which our civilization was built, they would not be molested. But if the government was given reason to believe that their intention was to attack law and order, such action would be taken "as will free this country from those who have proved themselves unworthy of our Canadian citizenship."

Teachers' Federation

1932 Convention Will Be Held In Regina

Moncton, N.B.—The 1932 convention of the Canadian Teachers' Federation will be held in Regina. An invitation extended by J. R. Mackey, and supported by a letter from the mayor of that city was accepted at the twelfth annual convention.

Miss Catherine M. Straith, of Windsor, Ont., was elected first vice-president to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. A. S. MacFarlane, of Fredericton, who was recently appointed superintendent of education for New Brunswick. A. Ricker of Saint John was elected second vice-president to fill the place formerly occupied by Miss Straith.

The secretary, M. J. Coldwell, of Regina, submitted his report of the year which dealt with the seriousness of the situation in regard to the prevailing depression. Western Canada, in particular, was faced with the certainty of a crop failure. Among the people there was a growing feeling that something was fundamentally wrong with an economic system which produces in abundance and yet tolerates a condition of want and extreme poverty in the midst of plenty. As educators the teachers must face the question, study the problem and assist mankind in finding a solution.

Canada-South Africa Trade Treaty Foreseen

Johannesburg Officials Investigating Most Suitable Terms For Agreement

London, England.—Successful negotiation of a trade treaty between Canada and the Union of South Africa is predicted in a despatch received here from Johannesburg.

Pointing to the activity of the South African Government in the matter, the Johannesburg correspondent says that officials of the Department of Trade and Commerce as well as of the Department of Finance have been busily engaged investigating the most suitable terms for an agreement.

The conclusion of an independent treaty between the two Dominions will be one result of the postponement for one year of the Empire Economic Conference at Ottawa, the despatch claims.

Floods Destroy Chinese Crops

Vast Areas Are Under Water and Hundreds Of People Dead

Shanghai, China.—Vast areas of Central China were under water, hundreds, perhaps thousands, were dead and the prices of foodstuffs soared 30 per cent. in many cities as the result of one of the worst floods in 60 years.

Crops were severely damaged pre- saging terrible famine during the coming fall and winter.

The Hankow correspondent of the Associated Press reported the Yangtze River at that point had risen higher than ever before in the history of modern records. He said the stream was still rising.

Telegraphic appeals poured into Nanking, the Nationalists capital, from scores of cities throughout the great Central China basin, indicating the widespread nature of the calamity. Nanking itself was partially submerged and thousands were made homeless.

Famine conditions already were reported from Wuhu, Anhwei Province, where rice boats were looted by hungry mobs.

Royalty Visiting Canada

King and Queen Of Siam Remaining Until September

Scarborough, N.Y.—From the observation platform of a special train which was to bear them to Quebec, for a five weeks' tour of Canada, King Prajadhipok and Queen Rambairn of Siam waved farewell to the people among whom they had lived in Westchester County for three months.

After visiting points of interest in Eastern Canada the royal party will go to Ottawa, to be guests of the government, August 10 and 11. They will sail in September from Vancouver.

Amendments To Customs Act

Ottawa, Ont.—Because of legal conflict over Canada's jurisdiction beyond the three-mile limit, the House of Commons recently accepted an amendment to the Customs Act, suggested by the senate. Whether the act was enforceable beyond the three-mile limit was being determined by the Privy Council, said Premier R. B. Bennett, and the senate amendment would clarify this situation pending judgment.

HELP RESPECTIVE COUNTRIES WITH ECONOMIC STEP

Lord Bledisloe (left) Governor-General of New Zealand, and Sir Henry Isaacs, Governor-General of Australia (right), both of whom have voluntarily taken a cut in salaries to fall in line with the general reduction in salaries of the Government ministers and civil servants of the two countries.

Want Wheat Price Bolstered

Committee On Agriculture Urges Ottawa To Prevent Drastic Drop

Ottawa, Ont.—"In view of the evidence given before the committee it is recommended that the government take whatever steps it may deem necessary to prevent a drastic decline in the price paid to producers of wheat, especially during the fall months when the bulk of the crop is being marketed."

This was one of the chief recommendations of the House of Commons Committee on Agriculture, which drafted its report, recording its investigations into the methods of handling and marketing agricultural products.

The report also commends the activities of the officers of the Department of Agriculture in putting before the farmers their suggestions for solution of various problems, and particularly urges them to disseminate information regarding the cause of and remedy for soil drifting, especially on the open prairie, and also the precautions to take in seeding down to grass or clover, or the planting of trees and hedges, as possible remedial measures.

The important question of how to get the producer the maximum returns for his produce and the relation of the spread between producer and consumer was given careful study by your committee," says the report.

Bill Becomes Law

British Unemployment Measure Passed By House Of Lords

London, England.—The unemployment insurance bill sponsored by the MacDonald Government became law when the remaining stages of the measure were passed by the House of Lords. It had already been given final reading in the House of Commons.

The bill, drawn up following the interim report of the royal commission on the "dole," was designed to correct certain abuses in the distribution of unemployment insurance money which have cost a considerable amount. In the Commons, the bill was attacked by the Liberal Group headed by Sir John Simon, Labor insurgents under James Maxton, and the Independent Group of Sir Oswald Mosley, as well as by the entire Conservative Party.

Australia Lowers Salaries

Sydney, Australia.—Following reductions in salaries of government ministers, members of parliament and civil servants of the Commonwealth of Australia, the movement has spread widely. The governor-general's lead in accepting a voluntary reduction has been followed by most of the state governors, and it has spread to the judges of the Supreme Court of the State of New South Wales.

Dynamite Blast Rocks Houses

Ottawa, Ont.—With a roar that shook the capital's up-town area and Parliament Hill, a five-pound box of dynamite was set off by a spark from a steam shovel, and 200 windows were shattered within an area of a city block. No one was injured. The dynamite was to have been used in the demolition of an old bank building at the corner of Wellington and O'Connor Streets.

SOME DETAILS OF BEAUHARNOIS INVESTIGATION

Ottawa, Ont.—Highlights of the Beauharnois report include:

The House of Commons' Committee on Beauharnois recommends:

That parliament procure the development of Beauharnois in a manner best suited to the interests of Canada, without prejudicing Quebec's rights.

That an agreement between the Dominion and Quebec should be arranged, if there is conflict between the two, so that the project may not be imperilled.

That navigation rights and the Dominion's jurisdiction of these be preserved.

The committee's report finds:

That R. A. C. Henry, vice-president of Beauharnois, does not commend himself as a fit and proper person to continue in the management of Beauharnois.

That both Mr. Henry and H. B. Griffith, secretary-treasurer of Beauharnois, were involved in the "misuse" of the company's funds for campaign purposes;

That the fee of $50,000 and annual retainer of $15,000 to the legal firm of Senator Andrew Haydon "is strongly condemned."

That Senator Haydon received over $500,000 for campaign purposes, while his firm, which received the aforementioned $50,000 rendered no detailed bill to the company for legal expenses;

That Senator McDougald's actions in Beauharnois "cannot be too strongly condemned";

That the evidence of J. B. Hunter, Deputy Minister of Public Works, and K. M. Cameron, chief engineer of the department, was not "satisfactory" in view of their position as departmental officials;

That the funds "improperly taken from the company" for campaign purposes should be returned to the company;

That from the beginning R. O. Sweezy, promoter of the project, appreciated "that he had to associate with him men who could exert influence in political circles at Ottawa and Quebec";

That the campaign contributions by Mr. Sweezy were "shamelessly, wastefully, and needlessly made for the expressed purpose of obtaining favourable consideration of the company's proposals to the government."

That the work of Beauharnois is proceeding on plans which have not been approved by the governor-in-council;

That Mr. Sweezy, together with Mr. Griffith, "was the instrument by which approximately $300,000 of the company's money was misused, as he alleges, for campaign funds."

That no evidence was adduced that $125,000 in bonds given to John Aird, Jr., of Toronto, went to any political party.

Bill Passes House

Federal Government Contributes 75 Per Cent. Toward Old Age Pensions

Ottawa, Ont.—Third reading was given in the House of Commons, to the government's measure providing for a Federal contribution of 75 per cent. toward old age pensions, the provinces contributing the remaining 25 per cent. One amendment to the bill was suggested by the Prime Minister on the promptings of several opposition members. It was that the clause in the preamble of the act expressing the desirability of establishing old age pensions on a contributory basis be eliminated. The House approved the amendment.

PAPERS REFLECT TOWN

It is recognized that a town may be rather accurately judged so far as its progressiveness is concerned, by the way in which it supports its newspapers. In other words, a creditable and prosperous looking newspaper may be safely taken as an indication of a live and enterprising community.

The reason is plain. A live town naturally demands a representative newspaper or newspapers, and there will always be found some one to meet the demands. Almost without exception it may be found that a town has just about as good a newspaper as it deserves; sometimes better than it deserves.

In this connection a quotation from an address of a former executive secretary of the Association of Advertising agencies, is to the point. In the light of his many years of experience in dealing with newspapers he says:

"I have been widely quoted as saying that the village weekly newspaper is the cornerstone of Canadian journalism. No one has disputed the assertion. Modern communities large and small, grow and prosper in the wake of their newspapers. If their newspapers are prosperous, retail business prosper and real estate appreciates in value."

MACHINES INSTEAD OF MEN

One power shovel today can excavate as much dirt on a city street as it required 200 unskilled laborers to shovel 30 years ago.

Ten years ago an automatic machine for the making of electric light bulbs was invented which produced 73,000 in 24 hours—formerly one man could make 75 in a day. Recent improvements so increase this productivity that each machine replaces 2000 men.

The strip mining of coal has produced a power shovel that lifts a ton at a time, dumps it in cars and returns for a second bite in three-quarters of a minute.

A dough-mixer and one man do the work of 20 bakers.

One girl with a rib-cutting (clothing) machine does the work of 25 cutters; with a button-hole machine, that of 50.

The lasting machine enables one man to do the work of 10 shoemakers; machines now do 90 per cent of the work of making a shoe.

The carton machine does the work of ten hand wrappers.

One operator of an open hearth charging machine does the work of 40 workers.

A pig-casting machine with seven operators took the place of 60 workers.

With a cigar-making machine, one man does the work of 15.

Two men do the work of eight,
helped by an automatic stoker.

An automatic conveyor enables 12 men to do the work of 150.

The dictaphone makes it possible for two typists to do the work of nine stenographers.

The magnetic crane operated by two men replaces 128.

An automatic butter wrapper and card printing machine will wrap in quarter portions and put cartons in more than six tons of butter in eight hours.

The dial telephone reduces the operating force to one-third.

It is estimated that under old-hand methods it would require 1,000,000 men to make 10,000 Ford cars in the time now required, and they would cost $10,000 each.

While the above by no means completes the list of labor-saving machinery, it will give a fair idea of the trend of modern industry, agriculture and commerce.

The best way to find missing kinfolk is to get rich.

Strange as it may seem, good housekeeping is one of the prime essentials of modern railroading. Mr. Traveller has become so used to strolling through the train to the dining car, for his needs in the way of food for himself, as well as for Mrs. Traveller and all the little Travellers, that he hardly gives a thought to how he gets a first class hotel meal, while whirling along at 60 miles an hour.
The answer lies with about 1,200 highly trained employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway, serving in some 150 dining and cafe cars, from Atlantic to Pacific, and with an organization in stores and farms throughout the country, which places high class foodstuffs in the chefs' cupboards and refrigerators.
The average number of meals served in a year is approximately 2,000,000. As to quantities, suffice to say that these include nearly 500,000 lbs. of various meats; 1,000,000 lbs. of tea and coffee and some 400,000 quarts of milk and cream. The Pictures show meals being served in a typical C.P.R.
diner and types of the staff of chefs and waiters employed in the

"Staple? Is that the Brennans' place?"

"God bless my soul, no! The Tormarins acquired it when they came pushing over to England with the Conqueror, I imagine. Anne married twice, you know. Her first husband, Tormarin, led her a dog's life, and after his death she married Claude Brennan—son of a junior branch of the Brennans. Now she is a widow for the second time."

strained upwards, piercing the mass of drifting cloud, whilst below lay a world sheeted in snow, the long reach of dazzling purity broken only where the pine-woods etched black trunks against the whiteness and the steely gleam of a frozen lake showed like a broad blade drawn from a white velvet scabbard.

It had been part of Peterson's expressed programme that, before going their separate ways, he and Jean should make a brief stay at Montavan, there to await Lady Anne Brennan's answer to his letter. Jean had divined in this determination an excuse, covering his need to take farewell of that grave on the lonely mountain-side before he set out upon the solitary journey which could not fail to hold poignant memories of other, former wanderings—wanderings invested with the exquisite joy of sharing each adventure with a beloved fellow-wayfarer.

Instinctively though Jean had recognized the desire at the back of Glyn's decision to stop at Montavan, she was scrupulously careful not to let him guess her recognition. She took her cue from his own demeanour, which was outwardly that of a man merely travelling for pleasure, and she listened with a grim sense of amusement when poor Monsieur Vautrinot, the Maitre d'Hotel, recognizing Peterson as a former client, sympathetically recalled the sad circumstances of his previous visit and was roundly snubbed for his pains.

To Jean the loss of her mother had meant far less than it would have done to a girl in more commonplace circumstances. It was true that Jacqueline had shown herself all that was kindhearted and generous in her genuine wish to compass the girl's happiness, and that Jean had been frankly fond of her and attracted to her, but in no sense of the words had there been any interpretation of a maternal or filial relationship: "Of course I know I'm a quite superfluous third at Beirnfels, but, all the same, you two really do make the most perfect host and hostess, and you try awfully hard not to let me feel de trop."

But, despite the fact that Jacqueline had represented little more to her daughter than a brilliant and delightful personality with whom circumstances happened to have brought her into contact, Jean was conscious of a sudden thrill of pain as her glance travelled across the wide stretches of snow and came at last to rest on the shoulder of a hill. She was moved by an immense consciousness of loss—not just the mere sense of bereavement which the circumstances would naturally have engendered, but something more absolute—a sense of all the exquisite maternal element which she had missed in the woman who was dead.

And then came recognition of the uselessness of such regret. Nothing could have made Jacqueline other than she was—one of the world's great lovers. Mated to the man she loved, she asked nothing more of Nature, nor had she herself anything more to give. And the same reasoning, though perhaps in a less degree, could be applied to Peterson's own attitude of detachment towards his daughter; although Jean was intuitively aware that she had come to mean much more to him since her mother's death, even though it might be, perhaps, only because she represented a tangible link with his past happiness.

Thrusting aside the oppression of thought conjured up by her glimpse of that quiet God's Acre, set high up among the hills, she turned abruptly from the window and made her way downstairs to the hotel vestibule.

Here she discovered that Peterson had been claimed by some acquaintances. The encounter was obviously not of his own choosing, for, to Jean's experienced eye, his face bore the slightly restive expression common to it when circumstances had momentarily got the better of him.

His companions were a somewhat elaborate little Frenchman of fifty or thereabouts, with an unmistakable air of breeding about him, and a stately-looking woman some fifteen years younger, whose warm brunette colouring and swift, mobile gesture proclaimed her of Latin blood. All three were conversing in French.

"Ah! La voici qui vient!" Peterson turned as Jean approached, his quick exclamation tinged with relief. Still in French, which both he and Jean spoke as fluently and with as little accent as English, he continued rapidly: "Jean, let me present you to Madame la Comtesse de Varigny."

ENO'S "FRUIT SALT"

Mothers! Don't Risk Their Health With Violent Purgatives

Constipation is one of childhood's greatest enemies. Unless the intestinal system is kept clear and clean ill health is almost sure to follow.

But severe acting laxatives are dangerous. The bodily system of child or adult is not meant to withstand the unnatural, forcing action caused by ordinary, cheap cathartics.

ENO'S "Fruit Salt" in a glass of water, every morning is the safest, surest and most pleasant way to inner cleanliness and perfect health.

The girl found herself looking straight into a pair of eyes of that peculiarly opaque, dense brown common to Southern races. They were heavily fringed with long black lashes, giving them a fictitiously soft and disarming expression, yet Jean was vaguely conscious that their real expression held something secret and implacable, almost repellant, an impression strengthened by the virile, strongly-marked black brows that lay so close above them.

For the rest, Madame de Varigny was undeniably a beautiful woman, her blue-black, rather coarse hair framing an oval face, extraordinarily attractive in contour, with somewhat high cheek bones and a clever, flexible mouth.

Jean's first instinctive feeling was one of distaste. In spite of her knowledge that Varigny was one of the oldest names in France, the Countess struck her as partaking a little of the adventures—of the type of woman of no particular birth who has climbed by her wits—and she wondered what position she had occupied prior to her marriage.

She was sharply recalled from her thoughts to find that Madame de Varigny was introducing the little middle-aged Frenchman to her as her husband, and immediately she spoke Jean felt her suspicious melting away beneath the warm, caressing cadences of an unusually beautiful voice. Such a voice was a straight passport to the heart. It seemed to clothe even the prosaic little Count in an almost romantic atmosphere of tender charm, an effect which he speedily dispelled by giving a Jean a full, true, and particular account of the various pulmonary symptoms which annually induced him to seek the high, dry air of Montavan.

A serious accident was averted last Friday evening when L.B. Hart and others were on their way to Drumheller. About half ways there the hind wheel of the car came off, but fortunately they were not driving fast at the time and the car was brought to a stop. The bolts had come out of the wheel, causing the mishap. The wheel was recovered, replaced, and the journey continued.

SOME PURITAN CUT-UPS

Those who depend on the regular historical works of the school-books type no doubt have formed the idea that the Puritan forefathers (and foremothers) of New England were about as perfect as folks could be.

The ironclasts have been at work again, however, and have dug up some old records which appeared to show that human nature was about the same in the old days as it is at present. A recent writer quotes at length from a Massachusetts court docket of 1646, of which a few sample cases were given as follows:

Henry Walton fined for saying he would as leave hear a dog bark as to hear Reverend Cobbell preach.

John Studley fined for stealing his master's ox and selling it to him.

Thomas Gray of Marblehead whipped for being overseen in drink.

Phillip Crumwell fined for being in drink three times in two days.

Mrs. Griffith fined for swearing.

Sarah Collins fined for railing at her husband and calling him "a pot-gutted devil."

A contemporary points out that some of the prettiest film actresses are unmarried. It does not say how many times.

With the red, white and blue barred standard of Siam fluttering above them in the summer sunshine, pipers from all parts of Canada proudly marched and counter-marched in the grounds of the Banff Springs Hotel, Banff, Alta., during the recent Highland Gathering, which was graced by the presence of T.M. King Prajadhipok and Queen Rambai Barni of Siam and their suite and a large number of distinguished guests. His Majesty, who opened the festival by raising the flag of St. Andrew, met an interesting character in the person of "Willie" Campbell, of New Westminster, B.C., who was a piper on the personal staff of

H. M. Queen Victoria, when King Chulalongkorn of Siam paid an official visit to her, at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, in 1894. Piper Campbell gave a special performance for King Prajadhipok, at the Banff meeting. A new feature of the Gathering was a competition for representatives of pipe bands of the 17 Canadian Scottish militia regiments, which was won by Piper Hector Macdonald, of Montreal. Dancing and Highland sports rounded out an excellent program, with specially presented Scotch light operas in the evenings. The picture shows the massed pipers, parading under the Siamese flag and (inset) T. M. the King and Queen of Siam and Piper Campbell.
